PISCATORIAL PATTERN

About Those Who Try To Outwit The Finny Tribe In Lake Okechobee and Other South Florida Fishing Spots

Red Gurkin and Walter Ashley, accompanied by two unidentified strangers, set forth last week to redeem their piscatorial record to date.

Red and Walter, it will be remembered, spent several days about a month ago looking for fish—and, incidentally, a lake. They didn't locate the lake they were especially desirous of finding. But they did catch some fish. My my? They caught four of them: not four apiece but four all together. They insist all of them were above the 12-inch line. How are they so sure? They measured 'em.

Pahokee Patrolman Reid Clift-

man, leader in the fishing contest at Belzner's up until last week, are fishing again. Their two-way tie for first place was shattered last week by a 9-pound mammoth caught by Jim Henderson, Lake Harbor. Jim entered the beauty at the top of the list and "Spud" and Dick are looking for a few larger than the 8-3-4 pound specimens entered by them to date.

Louie Gold and S. G. Burns have been fishing again. Louie, as usual, didn't catch any. Burns hauled in several small bass. He managed to land a four pound 14 ounce one and win the weekly prize at Denton's.

With just a few more weeks to go the fishing contest at Denton's store is fast drawing to a close. Dave Cunningham is still in the lead with his nine pound seven ounce beauty. Dave says he's hoping none of the boys get real enthusiastic over the outcome of the contest. He needs that first prize, he says.

R. L. Hatcher, Kilgore man, hooked a 5 pound 14 ounce black bass that is threatening to capture the weekly prize at the Hardware Store. Hatcher could not contain himself after landing such a whopper and was reported on Wednesday of this week as being seriously threatened with actual ostracization. That is to say, he was making himself obnoxious with repeated reports of the watery wonder.

Tom Roell at Port Mayaca is probably one of the finest farmers and citrus growers in this section, but he doesn't know a thing about how a suction dredge digs a canal. The other day he was fishing down in the lake bottom just over the canal. He was wading and gauged himself in an effort to follow the outer bank of the deep canal. He was walking straight along the canal bank when—all of a sudden he disappeared. Up and at his fishing business again. A few more minutes and he disappeared under the murky waters of the Lake. After about the umpteenth time of going under he asked a few questions and found out that every so often the suction dredge had dipped just a little further out than at other places. It was into those spots that Tom disappeared on more than one occasion.

The majority of fathers will tell you that their children know more than they do about everything except how to make a living for the family.

Pahokee Nine Lose Another Game And Drop Down Ladder

West Palm Beach Trims Locals 6-3 Sunday Afternoon

Pahokee's baseball nine dropped deeper into second division last Sunday by losing a 6-to-3 decision to the league-leading Merchants of West Palm Beach at Wright Field.

Although the Pahokians jumped to an early 2-to-0 lead in the first of the 4th, West Palm Beach aggregation came back in their half of the inning to capitalize on three Pahokee errors and a timely hit to drive three runs across the platter. Burns, Merchant 3rd baseman, received a pass and promptly stole second and advanced to third on an infield out. Burns, next up, was safe at first on an error and then Gold reached first on another error, allowing Burns to score and Boise to take third. Another error and Sowell's single scored Boise and Gold as the Pahokee infield flew completely sky-high.

West Palm Beach added another in the 6th and 7th and in the 7th but the damage had already been done.

Pahokee opened the scoring when Mock singled, the West Palm Beach infield bobbled a chance, and then Pugh and Baxter sacrificed—laurel—Rupert home with the first run of the game. The second bean-town run came in the fourth after Spooner reached first on an error, advanced to second on his brother's sacrifice, and romped home when Pete Baridin doubled to deep center.

Pahokians added another tally in the first of the ninth when Baridin, trying to win his own game, singled, took second on an error and scored on Mock's drive through the box.
